To the Veterans: Thank You

“While only one day of the year is dedicated solely to honoring our veterans, Americans must never forget the sacrifices that many of our fellow countrymen have made to defend our country and protect our freedoms,” Randy Neugebauer said. I’m just gonna be honest, I have no idea what to say here. Your bravery and work ethic leave me speechless. I don’t have the courage or the discipline to do what you do. You are respectable, honorable, smart and dependable. I will be forever grateful for everything you do to protect me and my family. I am so glad that you protect our country. In our country’s history we have fought 12 major wars and we were protected. We were protected by you. Thank you. There have been at least 43 major terrorist attacks in the U.S. and we were protected. We were protected by you. Thank you. Lives are being lived right now because of you, because of what you do for us. Thank you. As Maya Angelou said, “How important it is for us to recognize and celebrate our heroes and she-roses!” I want to let every single one of you know that you are appreciated. I am eternally grateful for everything you have done for me, my family and my country. No, not my country, our country. Thank you for protecting our country. Thank you.
